Project description
Objectives: The SSML Nelson Mandela favours the choice of partner institutions with a compatible academic profile and a similar study plan (Linguistic Mediation, Translation, Interpretation). We'd preferably choose our partners whose official languages are taught in our First Degree Course (English, French, Spanish and German). Thus, we'll give our students not only the possibility to improve their language skills, but also their interpersonal and intercultural skills, which are essential for any professional working in the linguistic mediation field.

Our goals are:

- to promote international mobility among outgoing and incoming students;
- to increase the awareness among our students and staff of the international and European dimension of the higher education system they belong to;
- to improve the development of students' linguistic, digital, intercultural and professional competences, but also their spirit of initiative, to increase their career prospects, thus making their access into the international labour market easier.

Activities: We're interested in creating Learning Agreements for Study and Traineeship Mobility within Programme Countries and we're open to any of the activities the measure provides for.

Results: This is our first experience with KA1, so we have no results yet.
